

ALBANY COUNTY
ANIMAL RESPONSE TEAM

Training Announcement How to Deal with Sick or Injured Animals

The Albany County Sheriff's Office, in conjunction with the New York State Animal Protection Federation's Division of Animal Cruelty Law Enforcement, the Mohawk Hudson Humane Society, Nassau County SPCA, NYS Department of Environmental Conservation and the Animal Cruelty Task Force of the Albany County's District Attorney's Office will conduct a free training on

How to Deal with Sick or Injured Animals
April 24, 2018, 1:00PM – 4:00PM
At Mohawk Hudson Humane Society, 3 Oakland Ave., Menands, NY 12204

Class Size: 50 (Law Enforcement/Animal Control Only)

Course Description:

This course will provide law enforcement and animal control officers with the opportunity to learn techniques and concepts relative to safely dealing with injured or sick animals. This course also teaches components necessary to create a structured, consistent, and effective response during these types of situations.

Experts in this field will train officers to humanly approach these types of situations and provide them with an understanding of the options and resources that are available to them such as control poles and live traps.

Information provided by:

- Sheriff Craig D. Apple, Sr. - Albany County Sheriff's Office
- Lt. Liza Bonseine - NYS DEC Police
- Todd Cramer, President/CEO - Mohawk Hudson Humane Society
- Jennifer McCanney, Assistant District Attorney - Albany County District Attorney's Office
- Libby Post, Executive Director - New York State Animal Protection Federation
- Jean Simmons, Wildlife Rehabilitator, Guildershaven

NOTE: Seats are limited so early registration is encouraged!

To Register: Please contact Sherree Sebast at Sherree.Sebast@albanycountyny.gov

Audience: You must be a certified Police/Peace Officer or an employed Animal Control Officer